

UML diagram not needed since previous group members added a guide on the Github on how to upload new data and modify with most of the other attributes included. This includes instructions for both backend and frontend.